

Free UST Owner Training

On March 24, 2004 the Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) will be providing free training to all interested UST owners and operators. The purpose of the training is to help you prepare for your upcoming 2004 inspection. The training location will depend upon how many owners/operators respond. Please respond to this survey as soon as possible so we can reserve a room large enough to accommodate all who would like to attend. We will post training locations on line, and individually notify those who provide us a mailing or email address.

Please bring information about your leak detection system to the training, (i.e. monthly leak detection records if possible) and complete the enclosed Compliance Checklist.

Yes, I am interested in UST Owner/Operator Training.
